

SHARE YOUR INNOVATIONS!

Webinar on Bridge 47 Project Proposals on Global Citizenship Education

Are you working in the area of Global Citizenship Education or educational innovations? Do you think that education can change the world around you for the better? If your answer is yes, Bridge 47 welcomes you to participate in a call for innovative educational projects. We believe education can help us reverse negative global trends.

In the current call for project proposals we are looking for innovative and/or experimental projects that help us build our understanding of how to facilitate transformative change through Global Citizenship Education. The deadline for submitting project proposals is 18 November, 2019.

The Bridge 47 Grant Call Coordination Team will lead a webinar on :

- The grant application process, eligibility and selection criteria, finance, reporting and guidance
- Discussion on what this call for proposals is looking for
- A report and sharing of experiences from a previous subgrantee

This webinar will take place on 29th October, 14:00-15:00 CET. You can register for the webinar here.

More information can be found in the call for proposals, where you can also find the budget and narrative application templates. Your project should be innovative based on one or more of the following aspects:

- Innovative and/or experimental regarding format, content, methodology, learning materials, learning spaces etc. ;
- Innovative and/or experimental regarding target group or educational actors and partners involved - including but not limited to the media, the private sector etc;
- Innovative and/or experimental regarding the evaluation, reflection and impact assessment of your educational activities that have already happened or are ongoing by using the BRIDGE 47 Framework for measuring the activities at a local or national level.
